I thought that it lists PCBs in one of the columns. We can clarify that this is a list of PCB landfills.

This is very interesting but where wastes are listed it doesn't mention PCBs. We might have to clarify this list is a list of PCB landfills??

Michael,

Just following up to see if you have that map of all PCB sites in the Midwest. It's for a congressional request on another site. Thanks!

Michael,

Doesn't look like there has been anything new since yesterday. I'll check again tomorrow, I may need to do a non-google search to catch anything new.

Also, Eileen mentioned that you might have a map of all the PCB sites in the Midwest. Is that correct? If so, can you send it to me?

Thanks!

Five articles from radio, news and mlive have come out already and are linked below.

The focus is on new technologies, not proposing a plan before the end of the calendar year and continued concerns about potential drinking water impacts.

I'll send any additional articles I find tomorrow. Thanks!
